GRANT AWARDED TO UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

The Library at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign has received a $397,000 two-year grant from the National Digital Newspaper Program (NDNP) for its Illinois Digital Newspaper Project. The award will support the digitization of 100,000 pages of historically significant Illinois newspapers dating from 1860 to 1922.

The Illinois Digital Newspaper Project builds upon two highly successful newspaper preservation and access programs currently hosted at the University Library, the Illinois Newspaper Project, and the Illinois Digital Newspaper Collection. The NDNP funding will be used to digitize Illinois newspapers selected by an advisory board based on their regional influence, their role as the "paper of record" at the county level, or their significance for specific ethnic, racial, or other social groups.

ILLINOIS LIBRARIAN NAMED FULBRIGHT SCHOLAR

Christopher J. Prom, assistant university archivist and associate professor of library administration at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign, has received a 2009-2010 U.S. Fulbright Distinguished Scholar Award.

Prom will spend the next academic year on sabbatical as a research fellow at the Center for Archive and Information Studies at the University of Dundee in Scotland, where he will pursue a project titled "Practical Methods to Identify, Preserve, and Provide Access to Electronic Records."

For his project, Prom plans to use several sets of records, including the files of a Nobel Laureate and those of a prominent champion of intellectual freedom. He is also interested in working with the records of community organizations in Scotland, where he will live with his family for 10 months.
